Handwritten text in a script, likely Indic, spanning the main body of the manuscript. The text is organized into several lines, with some words highlighted in red ink. The script appears to be a form of Devanagari or a related Indic script, possibly from a historical or religious text. The text is written in a cursive style, with some characters being more prominent than others. The red ink highlights certain words or phrases, possibly indicating a specific meaning or a point of interest. The overall appearance is that of an ancient manuscript, with some wear and tear visible along the edges.

Handwritten text at the bottom of the manuscript, possibly a signature or a date. The text is written in the same script as the main body, but it is less legible due to the fading of the ink and the wear of the paper. It appears to be a single line of text, possibly indicating the author or the date of the manuscript.
